

12:21 PM

rediffmail

Welcome to Rediffmail: Inbox

Mailbox of skkataria64

Subject: objection on a joke published in baal bhaskar

From: Surendra Kataria <skkataria64@rediffmail.com> on Fri, 26 Jan 2024 16:20:57

To: "balbhaskar@dbcorp.in" <balbhaskar@dbcorp.in>

PTS

1 attachment(s) - baal_bhaskar_joke_objection.jpg (180.19KB)

Dear Editor,
I have gone through the Baal Bhaskar issue published on 12 January, 2024. (Copy attached). There is a joke published on page number 9 saying that a person did not take sleep whole night due to the feeling of heat in a upper seat on a train. The seat could not be exchanged because the passenger of lower berth did not board on train. This is not a joke. It's actually a matter of civic sense and common sense that no one can take the seat of others whether the fellow passenger comes or not. Every passenger is expected to occupy his/her seat allotted by the railway administration. How can you convert such a good civic duty into a joke? Remember, it's your duty to prepare good citizens.
s k kataria

