The Prime Minister Sir

Government of India, New Delhi.

Sub.- Suggestion on 'One Nation- One Election'.

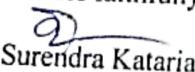

Sir,

It is to submit before you that the Government of India is planning a major reform in elections in India that is the implementation of one nation- one election. The Republic of India is a union of States and this is a huge and heterogeneous country which has a large number of rural and urban local bodies as well. It is imperative to maintain autonomy, liberty and uniqueness of State, my humble submission is that we may have two types of elections.

- A. Loksabha, Rajyasabha, President and Vice President Elections at a time.
- B. State specific assembly elections as per their tenure with both rural and urban local bodies' elections because working of these bodies is closely lined up with State politics not with union government.

With kind regards

Yours faithfully

Surendra Kataria
